

Ron Biga is a Utility Instructor here at the Baseball Institute, specializing in all aspects of the game. Ron is possibly the most experienced of all instructors here at BI. Biga began at St. Rita High School where he was a stand-out player, leading him to play at the collegiate level with the Triton College Trojans (NJCAA) and later St. Xavier University Cougars (NAIA).

Much of Ron's experience comes on the coaching side of the game. Ron began coaching professionally for the Sioux City Explorers (American Association) for the 2006 & 2007 seasons. Ron was then scooped up by the Southern Illinois Miners (Frontier League) for the 2008 season. Biga would later become Vice President of Baseball Operations with the Joliet Slammers (Frontier League) for the 2011 & 2012 seasons. Lastly, Ron was named Field Manager of the ThunderBolts in 2012 and went on to become the longest tenured and winningest field manager in ThunderBolts history before retiring after the 2018 season.

Ron currently works in Management for a construction/bricking company but still keeps his passion for the game going as an instructor. Ron is a big believer in developing kids the right way, helping players make the simple adjustments and finding a routine that works for them. Baseball Institute is thrilled to have Ron be a part of their staff.

Ron Biga Fun Fact*: Three favorite teams are the Chicago Blackhawks, Chicago Bears and Chicago Cubs.
